

[24/06/22][03:54:57] -

---

Title: Britannian Theater

Author: Academy of Arts

---

In our lands we are graced with those who love theater, with those who love to act and fill our minds with imagination and wonder. In Britannia we have about two Major Theaters in our Realms. One in Britain and one in Nu'jelm. They hold productions on somewhat of a regular basis and always get a good response. One of the recent production. Called, "Where has he gone" written by Lord Cromwell of OSD, recently had major positive review and response from the masses due to its well written dialog and good storyline. The tale told was that of Lord British and where he is now. Truly theater is developing well in Britannia. We can see this by the increase in productions since last year. We of course hope that this will continue and hope that we see more of this in times to come.